

The Carson Daily Appeal

CARSON CITY:

Saturday, September 6, 1873.

THE GREAT and all absorbing tournament which is to decide which member of which militia company in General Batterman's Brigade can shoot his gun off with the severest degree of accuracy in the direction of a certain bull's eye will take place, God willing, to-day. The pensive wanderer by the Carson street railway station will have his vision gratified this morning at the time of the arrival of the 10:15 train with buttons and guns and bayonets and swords and plumes and gold lace, and our country's banner borne proudly aloft, and sweet music and the spirit stirring life, and the spirit drinking camp follower, and all the pride, pomp and circumstance of glorious war as mirrored forth by the brave and stalwart and patriotic sons of Columbia and Erin and Faderland and New Jersey and other happy countries where children make up the invincible homogeneity which constitutes America's modest boast, bedad. And as our town they march through, the ladies' eyes will search through the ranks to find their joy; and up the shire street each gal they meet will cry 'me oi, an' isn't he a darlint, the bould soger bye? We shall endeavor to enlist a volunteer or draft a bounty jumper for a reporter of these warlike proceedings.

WE YESTERDAY INSPECTED the Rosser block. It is a very substantial as well as a very sightly building. There are six double rooms on the north side and seven single rooms on the south side. Those which open on the north balcony are none of them less than 12 by 18 feet—the ante-room adjoining each being about 10 by 12 feet. The south side tier of apartments are none of them less than 12 by 15 feet in size. They are all very handsomely furnished with cornices and center pieces and the walls are at least 11 feet high. (These figures are gotten from pacing and eye measurement.) A handsome hall runs the entire length of the building and a lateral hall opens out from this and communicates with the balcony. These are by all odds the handsomest office rooms in town. Down stairs the building is divided lengthwise by a partition which makes a very large and handsome store room (just the place for an elegant family grocery) on the corner; and adjoining this is a room, the latter third of which has been partitioned off for some purpose best known to John Rosser. In this part Mr. R. will have his butcher shop—and it will be gotten up regardless of expense and be the very finest style of any market house in the State. The building will be ready for occupation by the first of October or sooner.

"HUNG UP" Coming Down.—By dint of unremitting punching and other means, known only to woodmen, of "loosening up," a large force of the horny handed have worried the rear of the remaining twenty thousand cords of the big "hung up" as far down the valley as the point opposite the Twelve Mile House, twelve miles south of Genoa. Fifteen hundred cords are already harbored in the Mexican dam awaiting transportation to the wood yard until certain repairs on the flume are made. The remainder of the extensively strong out float will be dammed (so say the wood men) within the next thirty days, or, at all events, within the next forty-five. Since they have fairly struck the valley, the trouble is over.

Our gymnastic young townsmen are taking admirable practice at their frequent meetings in the Turn Verein Hall and are bringing up the muscle with a round turn. Young Torreyson, whom the Club recognize as considerably their most proficient amateur, has lately been chosen leader of the Club. George Bryson comes next in the order of general proficiency; while there are several others who might be mentioned as creditably "up" in gymnastics, considering the short period they have been in practice.

It was ascertained by a little fooling up in the State Treasurer's abstract book of land entries, yesterday, not for item, which makes an interesting one nevertheless, that upwards of 41,000 acres of Government land have been deposited for, on the plan of the ten year payment, from May 19 to June 30, 1873, inclusive.

Is JUSTICE CORNER, yesterday, John Chaffin, arrested by officer Newhouse for being drunk and lying in the street, was fined twenty dollars, and in default of payment was committed to jail for ten days. The prisoner states that he resides in Jack's Valley.

CHOICE FANCY GOODS.—Dr. Colton has just received a world of varied and exquisite toilet articles, perfumeries, soaps, restorers, etc. His stock of Lubin's alone is enough to sweeten the town. Call on the affable doctor and see, and smell.

GEORGE D. FRYER has had his large wholesale and retail liquor repository reshelled, and is engaged in restoring and sorting over his entire stock, which is probably the largest and most complete of any in the State of Nevada.

District Court Proceedings.

Friday, Sept. 5. Hon. C. N. Harris, Judge, presiding.
In the matter of the estate of Willford deceased. Annual account of guardian settled and order of sale of real estate made.

Madigan vs Hogan. Demurrer disposed of and 3 days given to answer.
Warren vs Quill et al. Tried by Court and defendant allowed 4 days to file brief.

Adjourned to Monday.

THE ONLY INCIDENT which was brought to our knowledge yesterday and which would have made a dark, mysterious and startling, not to say blood-curdling, item, we are induced to suppress out of consideration to one of the parties concerned. We must, we think, in the future, decline to be silent on matters of general interest; but as we have made many similar suppressions in the past, and have never given any formal notice of our intent to give over that stifling practice in the future, we consent to be persuaded, this once, and pretty much finally, to say nothing about the occurrence hinted at. We hope that nobody, not even the members of our family, will endeavor to worm out of us what it is we are thus keeping in the shade of silence and the sombre depths of mystery—for we shall decline to be pumped.

THAT raised platform in the southwestern corner of Mason & Chamberlin's new store, is, we would remark, by way of gratifying the curious, an arrangement for the better accommodation of the concern's book keeper—is to be the office of the concern, in fact. It is there that Messrs. M. & C. and their assistants will look through a glass door upon their customers; and there the genial Horatio will again justify the trust reposed in him by his fellow citizens by doing up the affairs of the County Treasury in his usual correct and feeling manner.

MR. JOHN HANSON of the Morgan mill was in town yesterday and from him we learned that his mill, by its steam power, was now crushing about 95 tons of Crown Point ore per day. The Brunswick is running rather light in consequence of the scarcity of water; and the Mexican was shut down on Wednesday. In the meantime the old flume which was built in 1863 is being taken up and a new one is going down in its place. Everything about the Mexican mill will be "ship shape and Bristol fashion" when the waters do rise again.

WE ARE glad to announce the fact that the cells in the south side of the County Jail are undergoing some much needed repairs. They are three in number and they are being made secure by the addition of securely-bolted iron linings. In fact, when finished, they will be substantial iron cages so firmly placed and bolted that an escape will be almost a matter of impossibility. This is a piece of work for the timely ordering of which our County Fathers are much to be commended.

WE HEREBY give the usual parliamentary notice that we shall, in our issue of to-morrow, publish for the entertainment of our readers in general and the urging of the Board of Town Trustees in particular, an appeal for an ordinance prohibiting the further running at large of cows and other neat cattle and mules and horses.

THE Debating Society at Empire will hold its regularly appointed weekly debate to-night at the School-house. The question for discussion is that offered by Mr. Lockwood, namely, "Resolved, That republican government is a failure"—or words to that effect. The debate will be an interesting one.

SOURCE.—The young gentlemen of the Gymnastic Club of Carson are going to give a select dancing party Monday evening inst., at the Turn Verein Hall. Excellent music has been engaged and every other arrangement has been made to ensure a good time.

REV. C. L. FISHER, General Agent A. B. H. M. Society, will lecture at the Methodist Church in Carson City next Sabbath evening at 7:30 P. M. Subject: "Youth, Its Advantages and Disadvantages." General invitation extended to all.

Writing School.—Prof. Buck, who furnishes the grey goose quill with the ease and elegance of an artist will open a writing school at the Public School House on next Monday evening. See special notice.

THE Carson City Jockey Club will meet this evening at the Magnolia Saloon. All the old members are requested to be on hand at 8 o'clock, prompt. This meeting is for the purpose of reorganizing, and making arrangements for Fall races over the Carson Race Track.

THE MAIL for Empire which has heretofore been delayed until a late and inconvenient hour, will hereafter leave here on the 8 o'clock morning train. This will be a matter of much accommodation to our friends at Dutch Nick's.

"TAKE CARE OF YOURSELF," is the subject of a lecture that J. Rawson Johnson proposes to deliver at the Methodist Church this evening.

HON. JOHN H. MILLS was amongst his old friends in Carson yesterday.

SERIOUS LOSS OF HORSEFEEL.—We find the following in the telegrams of yesterday:

Trenton, N. J., September 4.—The Fashion Stud Farm Stables took fire about 4 o'clock this morning, and the building, 50 by 195 feet; was entirely destroyed, together with nine horses out of the 19 which it contained at the time. Among the horses burned were two road horses belonging to President Grant, a valuable animal belonging to Mr. Butterworth of Philadelphia, a horse belonging to Budd Doble, valued at $4,000, and five other horses not rated. Goldsmith Maid, Lucy, Rosalin, Hotspur and California Mare were saved. Doble loses ten sulkies and other traps, valued at $1,000.

Another dispatch says:
The loss by the burning of the Fashion Stud Stables is estimated at $75,000. The insurance on the stables was $80,000, but there was none on the horses. Doble loses at least $5,000.

THE RAYMOND & ELY STOPPED.—Yesterday it was reported that an injunction had been laid on the Raymond & Ely Company, obliging them to cease work on the mine. Few seemed to believe it at first, people thinking it to be a hoax. By evening, however, the report was confirmed. All the work, except that done by contract, was stopped yesterday, by restraining order issued on the 25th of August by Judge Hillyer in the United States Circuit Court at Carson, at the instance of the Kentucky Mining Company, that company having brought suit against the Raymond & Ely. To the surprise of many the bonds which the Kentucky Company are to give are only to the amount of $5,000. October 5 is the day set for the Raymond & Ely to show cause why the restraining order should not be made a perpetual injunction.—Pioneer Record, Sept. 2.

As has been already stated in the APPEAL, this restraining order has been set aside upon the defendant filing a bond in the sum of $500,000. This obviates the deleterious effects of a prolonged stopping of operations in the Raymond & Ely.
